DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 4-16 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from a multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Whiteman (US Pat No 5,846,425).

Whiteman discloses concentrating waste activated sludge from a certain total solids content to an increased solids content, wherein said solids largely contain bacterial biomass from prior aeration of the activated sludge (col. 3, lines 15-18), disrupting bacterial cells contained in the biomass so as to release fermentable nutrients from said bacterial cells (col. 4, lines 1-4), passing the activated sludge from step through an anaerobic digester system (col. 4, lines 27-31), and removing N and/or P from the residue obtained after anaerobic digestion (col. 5, lines 28-37; col. 8, lines 13-18; col. 13, lines 50-61), wherein strong acids are used (col. 7, lines 29-33) to inherently kill at least some pathogens. Whiteman does not disclose that the initial total solids content is 0.1-1.0% w/v and the final solids content is between 1.5-5.0% w/v.

It is submitted that the instantly recited ranges reside in the area of routine optimization of a process effective variable. Further, the record does not show, e.g., by comparative test data, the applicant is able to obtain any new an unexpected result by utilizing the recited initial and final solids concentrations. Accordingly, absent such a showing, the concentrations are deemed to be an obvious matter of design choice, insufficient to patentably distinguish the instant invention over the prior art.

Conclusion

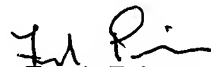

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. References are cited of interest to show the state of the art.
